

James Bond Agent 007

The name's Bond ...James Bond.
You can call me Bonzie (get it? like Bonds-y). I'm a collie, a smooth collie that is. If you haven't heard of us, we are the short haired, better looking version of the same breed as Lassie. And I am smooth in every sense of the word. I have the same great traits you find in a collie, but like Agent 007, I am way cooler and way smarter than your average collie. I'm better looking too. I think it's my beautiful blue-merle color and ice blue eyes. Now, if you're looking for your average "Lassie" type collie, check out Jasper on another ornament. Nice dog, but kind of a dork. However, if you want a dog with real character and brains, one that gets attention wherever he goes, I'm your dog. I'm cool with everyone - kids, adults and even other dogs. (I may be a little too cool for toddlers.) I'm young, energetic, healthy and past that annoying puppy age. One last thing: my foster mom says I give good hugs. I hope to be interviewing families soon. Are you up to taking me on?
